Singing for Peace…
with the SeaSide Singers on…

International Peace Day…

September 20th 2015

Australian songwriter, Eric Bogle wrote our Theme song "Peace has broken out"; local composer Sam Donovan arranged it for the SeaSide Singers and the choir sang it with many other peace songs at our concert.

Extra voices who joined in on the day came from school children and community groups who donned our Peace T-shirts and helped the choir lead an audience of over 100 people in singing some of the better known Peace songs.

Those who attended enjoyed the "inclusiveness' engendered by singing together about causes that they were all passionate about. Extra activities on the day included the reading of Peace essays written by members of the community – 3 prizes were awarded. Donations totalling $310 were sent on to the "Save the Children" fund.
